

ISO 9001

Quality management system certification

ISO 9001 is an international business standard that specifies an effective way for organisations to manage the quality of the services and products they supply. It identifies how to implement and document a quality management system that can be externally audited to achieve certification.

It is applicable to all organisations regardless of their size, activity or legal status.

Certification to ISO 9001 can increase national and international trade of goods and services. Customers are assured that their supplier abides by all the requirements of the globally recognised standard.

Benefits of ISO 9001 certification:

- generates new business opportunities
- increases your customers' trust in you as a consistent supplier of products and services
- enhances your competitiveness
- reduces cost and generates savings
- helps maintain and improve your market position
- identifies and optimises the effectiveness of your business processes
- provides an excellent tool for training of employee and staff

Why choose URS?

URS is accredited by the internationally recognised United Kingdom Accreditation Service (UKAS).

The extensive range and high quality of the services provided by URS has attracted more than 40,000 contracts across 32 countries.

Our auditors have come from business background first and therefore are highly pragmatic, motivated and experienced.

Our auditors are strictly monitored and continually undertake training and evaluations to ensure their business process knowledge.

Certified organisations can include URS and UKAS logos as part of their promotional activities.

